Monster asked for help to unearth hidden treasure

SERIAL KILLER LURED VICTIMS WITH 'BURIED GOLD' SCAM

By COLIN HURST

A DEVIUS serial killer lured his victims into the woods by asking them to help dig up buried GOLD.

Evil Richard Bradley Jr, 40, said that he needed help unearthing the hidden treasure and offered to share the hoard.

He now faces four murder charges.

Assange gets appeal to stay out of States

A DATE has been set for Julian Assange's final appeal against being extradited to the United States.

The case will be heard in the High Court on February 20 and 21.

Campaign groups immediately called for a protest outside the court and around the world on those days.

The two-day hearing may be the final chance for the WikiLeaks founder to prevent his extradition to the US, where he fears a sentence of 175 years.

Assange has been detained in the high-security Belmarsh Prison in London since he was dragged out of the Ecuadorian embassy, arrested on a US extradition warrant in April 2019.

This will be his fifth Christmas in Belmarsh.

An application before the European Court of Human Rights remains a possibility.

Red Sea pirates force up prices

ATTACKS on commercial ships in the Red Sea risk pushing up the price of oil and other goods, analysts have warned.

Several firms have paused shipments through the route after vessels were attacked by Houthi rebels in Yemen.

The world's second largest shipping line, Maersk, said it will reroute vessels around the Cape of Good Hope.

The disruption has led the US to launch a naval operation to protect ships. Countries joining the security group include the UK, Canada, France, Bahrain and Norway.

This shit just got serious... DEMANDS FOR ISRAEL EUROVISION BAN

MUSICIANS from mighty ICELAND have demanded the country boycotts the Eurovision Song Contest unless Israel is banned from taking part.

The Association of Composers and Lyricists of Iceland (FTT) says it wants the country's national broadcaster RUV to halt its participation in the show if Israel remains in the competition.

Hamas killed 1,200 people and kidnapped hundreds more in cross-border attacks on October 7.

Israel has since killed more than 18,800 Palestinians – according to the health ministry in Gaza, which is controlled by terror gang Hamas.

The FTT said: "We all have a duty to take a stand against war and the killing of civilians and innocent children."

"We always have the choice not to put our name to such things, whether we are individuals or state institutions."

"We owe it to the nations that act with military force to not share with them in an event that is always characterised by joy and optimism."

Iceland has seen relative success in the contest in recent years, and many have suggested the country's Dadi Freyr would have won the 2020 contest, had it not been cancelled.

Israel has also been a big winner in Eurovision – a singing contest watched by homosexuals – coming first most recently in 2018, with the song Toy by Netta.

Pro-Palestinian activists and groups have also called for a boycott, while Ireland's RTE is also reported to have received hundreds of emails asking it to boycott next year's contest.

4,000 evacuate after Iceland volcano erupts

A VOLCANO has erupted on the Reykjanes peninsula of south-west Iceland after weeks of intense earthquake activity.

About 4,000 people were evacuated from the fishing town of Grindavik and the Blue Lagoon geothermal spa was closed.

The eruption started north of the town at 22:17, the Icelandic Met Office said.

The region around the capital Reykjavik has been experiencing an increase in earthquake activity since late October.

Images and videos on social media showed lava bursting from the volcano just an hour after an earthquake swarm, or seismic events, were detected.

A coastguard helicopter has been sent to the area to confirm the exact size of the eruption.

The length of the crack in the volcano is about two miles, with the lava flowing at a rate of around 100 to 200 cubic yards per second, it added.

It is much bigger than recent eruptions on the Reykjanes peninsula.

96 killed in China quake

AT least 96 people have died and hundreds more injured after an earthquake hit north-west China yesterday.

The quake struck in Gansu province just before midnight local time, damaging buildings both there and in the neighbouring province of Qinghai.

The European Mediterranean Centre Seismological Centre (EMSC) had pegged the earthquake at a magnitude 6.1.

The country's central government has dispatched teams of rescue workers to help local teams.

Chinese leader Xi Jinping said: "All efforts should be made to carry out search and rescue, treat the injured in a timely manner."

GOOD NEWS: WHITE CHRISTMAS 'HIGHLY LIKELY' BAD NEWS: WE'RE ALL GOING TO DIE!

A WHITE Christmas is still 'technically speaking' very highly likely, the Met Office has said.

Fresh hopes of snow on Christmas Day were raised as temperatures are set to drop to as low as -8C in northern Scotland towards this weekend.

The Met Office threshold for a White Christmas is met when at least one snowflake falls on December 25 anywhere in the UK.

The northern Pennines and the Scottish Highlands are the most likely to go white this year, with 2021 being the last year the technical definition was met.

But for a picturesque Christmas Day, Britons have to think back to 2010 – the year of the 'big freeze' – for the last time the festive season was greeted with widespread snow.

Met Office spokesperson Grahame Madge said that cold air was set to come in from the North and could even travel as far south as the Midlands.

But he added that Britons were unlikely to wake up to a blanket of snow on Christmas morning this year, with a technical 'white Christmas' far more probable.

Matthew Lehnert, the Met Office's Chief Meteorologist said: "This weekend will be mild across the UK with high pressure in the south maintaining a settled theme. However, a slow-moving front will bring a spell of heavy rain to northwest Scotland."

Wind

But metmen have also warned we are all going to DIE in the run up to the big day.

The Met Office issued a 'danger to life' warning for large swathes of the UK amid strong winds and wintry showers in the lead-up to Christmas. Met Office Deputy Chief Meteorologist, Helen Caughey, said: "Wind speeds will increase from the northwest through Wednesday evening and overnight, so that by Thursday there is a risk of gusts of 50-60mph for a large swathe of central and northern parts of the UK."

"Coastal locations, higher ground, and areas to the east of high ground could see gusts of 70-80mph."

"Due to the scale of the low pressure to the north of the UK, it is possible this event could persist across some areas into Friday, so we recommend keeping up to date with the Met Office forecast."

TODAY'S WEATHER

GREY skies hold sway for the whole of the UK today with rain for northern and western areas.

Scotland will see the worst of the downpours but it will be mild.

Temperatures of 10C in London and in Cardiff, 9C in Manchester, 10C in Belfast and 8C in Edinburgh.

£39,000 LECCY BILL FOR PERRY

TRANNY potter Grayson Perry has criticised EDF, saying the energy firm tried to raise his monthly electricity bill from £300 to £39,000.

Sir Grayson wrote on Twitter that the company had tried to take the inflated amount as a direct debit from his account. Other customers, including journalist Jon Sopel, reacted with similar stories.

EDF said "unusual" direct debit changes could occur when incorrect meter readings were recorded on its system.

Sir Grayson said he had "out of the blue" received "about 15 bills" that added up to £39,000.

The Essex-born artist, who is known for his ceramics, said he was told they would deduct the money by direct debit for all bills on the same day.

"I just thought it was so bizarre. On Friday, I spent about three hours at least trying to get some sense out of a call centre, but you're talking to a computer really, so it was very frustrating.

"They just would sort of say, 'well it says £39,000 – that's how much we're going to take.'"

A spokesman for EDF said: "Unusual changes to direct debit amounts can occur when there is an erroneous meter reading recorded on the system."

What a gorgeous pair of udders. Just perfect for any man to crème en glaze over

TARGET: Katy

NICE PAIR OF UDDERS

By SUZIE SHELTON news@sundaysport.co.uk

KATY Perry shows off her cleavage in a new advert for luxury brand Dolce & Gabbana's Devotion fragrance.

Wearing a plunging lace corset top, the pop star, 39, oozes sex appeal as she leans back in a chair with the fragrance bottle in hand.

The sheer top is styled with a matching black lace skirt, both of which flatter her curvy frame.

But while the scene no doubt smelled divine on the beautiful Katy, the reaction of some online downright STANK.

Because when the pictures were reproduced on the Daily Mail's website, Christmas trolls came out in force.

One slavered: "What a gorgeous pair of udders. Just perfect for any man to crème en glaze [anglaise] over."

This sickening comment suggested this gentleman wanted to ejaculate SPUNK over Katy Perry's impressive breasts and then no doubt massage his filthy leavings into the crooner's stiffening nipples.

Last night pals of Katy were in shock over the blatant misogyny of the comment.

One friend of the California Gurls star said: "I assume that this person has never met Katy. If he had, he would know she's not the sort who would allow a stranger to deposit his intimate fluids on her breasts."

"This is vile sexist abuse!"

Dogs sniff out £10m drugs

SNIFFER dogs found £10million in drugs – hidden in a consignment of jalapeño paste.

Border security officers uncovered the illicit cargo inside a commercial trailer in San Diego.

The vehicle said to be carrying a shipment of jalapeño paste had actually brought 349 packages of methamphetamine and cocaine, which officers removed from the vats of paste after dogs flagged the trailer.

Cops identified the driver as a 28-year-old man with a valid border crossing card — a visa that the US issues to people who are citizens and residents of Mexico.

Mother killer sang as cops arrested him

A LOON found lying naked on top of his decapitated mum sang: "Jesus loves me," as he was arrested, cops say.

As Sunday Sport reported this week, Jeffrey Surgent, 46 (above), called cops in Ocean County, New Jersey, about his mother's murder.

Responding police officers found Surgent – nude and covered in blood – in an apartment hallway on top of Alexandria Surgent's headless body, a few feet away from her severed head.

Surveillance footage shows Surgent dragging his mother into the hallway and lying on top of her body.

Now it's emerged he was singing as he was arrested.

The Cape May County Prosecutor's Office said Surgent has a history of mental health issues.

He is being held in a medical facility as he faces a murder charge.

And what better way to celebrate the approach of the big day than this couple of Christmas CRACKERS!

Ashley grinned: "And what better present for Midweek Sport readers than two pairs of big boobs?!"

Olivia loves her bigger Wonka bust

BRIT actress Olivia Colman has spoken about her villainous character in Wonka and praised the large fake boobs she got to wear for the role.

The 49-year-old (above) plays con artist Mrs Scrubbit in the musical origin story, with her character forcing lead Timothée Chalamet's Willy Wonka into an unfair life-long contract.

Olivia talked about creating the look for her character, and how she really appreciated the extra padding as the scenes were filmed during cold weather.

Olivia said: "I loved being a baddie. I didn't really enjoy physically shoving co-star Calah Lane around, but she was going, 'I'm fine, I'm cool with it. Just do it'."

"But it is fun being a baddie and saying all the things you wouldn't normally say. I've just really enjoyed it."

"Mrs Scrubbit is a little bigger, so she had bigger bosoms and a bigger bum, and she was really confident. I was so cosy with my extra boobs. I loved it!"

Twitch in move to ditch nudity

STREAMING platform Twitch has been forced to abandon a loosening of its policy on sexual content as it led to a glut of AI-generated nudity.

The platform – popular with video gamers – announced last week that more adult content was to be allowed, as long as it was deemed to be "artistic" enough.

That prompted a torrent of digitally generated nudes, and the firm quickly moved to announce a U-turn.

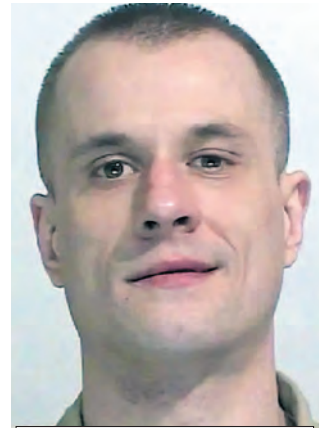

"Upon reflection, we have decided that we went too far with this change," CEO Dan Clancy said in a statement.

He added that some of the imagery that had been allowed on the platform under the new guidelines was "met with community concern".

Mr Clancy added: "Moving forward, depictions of real or fictional nudity won't be allowed on Twitch, regardless of the medium."

Serial killer lured victims with treasure scam

CAN YOU HELP ME DIG UP MY BURIED GOLD?

FACING CHARGES: Richard Bradley

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

Who gave Bella a pearl necklace?

BELLA Thorne went topless in a racy shoot for her jewellery brand, Thorne Dynasty.

The 26-year-old actress covered her bare bust with an arm as she smouldered for the camera while showing off her company's glittering accessories – including what looked like a pearl necklace.

One fan said: "I'd like to give Bella a pearl necklace... a pearl necklace of SPUNK, that is, just in case you didn't get my drift."

A SERIAL killer lured in his victims by telling them he needed their help digging up buried treasure in the wild, where he slaughtered them and ransacked their bodies.

Richard Bradley Jr, 40, had been sitting in jail for one of his alleged slayings for two and a half years – now he's been hit with three more murder charges.

Bradley was initially charged in May 2021 for allegedly killing and burying 44-year-old Brandi Blake at the Game Farm Park in Auburn, Washington state.

While exhuming her body, authorities found nearby the remains of three others, which were later identified as Bradley's other victims – Emilio Maturin, 36, Michael Goeman, 59, and Goeman's 31-year-old son Vance Lakey.

All four were killed after they fell for Bradley's scheme, and shortly after each had come into a substantial amount of money, prosecutors allege.

Bradley reportedly told each he needed help digging up a stash of gold in the wooded area, killed them and pocketed their possessions they had on hand, as well as their cars, which he was seen driving in the days following their disappearances.

Maturin was first to vanish, with his girlfriend reporting him missing in September 2019, two weeks after he was last seen alive.

She told cops she overheard Bradley telling Maturin that "he needed help digging up some buried gold in Auburn," a suburb of Seattle.

Maturin followed his accused killer to the park in his brand new BMW and carrying heroin, meth, and £10,000 in cash, according to court documents.

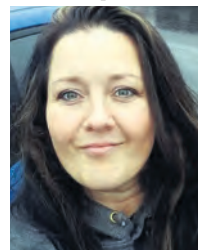

Hours later, Auburn police found an unregistered BMW parked near a field at the park and waited for the driver to return. When they tried to stop the driver, the car took off. Bradley was held after a chase and charged with eluding police.

He then waited another two years to strike, but this time targeted two people.

Goeman had received an inheritance shortly before he and his son were shot to death in March 2021, their bodies found on a small road not far from the park.

Brandi Blake (above) went missing just two months after the father-son pair and shortly after she won £15,000 at a casino.

Her body was found in a shallow grave. Bradley, who is due to stand trial next month in Blake's death, now faces two counts of premeditated murder, two of second-degree murder and arson.

Wasted wind costs you £40

WASTED wind power added £40 to the average UK household's electricity annual bill this year, according to a think tank.

And that figure could increase to £150 in 2026, Carbon Tracker has estimated.

When it's very windy, the grid can't handle the extra power generated – meaning wind farms are paid to switch off, gas-powered stations are paid to fire up, and the cost is passed on to consumers.

Hookers plying trade to dads on school run

DADS dropping kids off at school are being targeted by hookers.

Families living in Holbeck, Leeds, claim prostitutes have been targeting wealthier clients who travel through the area in the morning on the school run.

As a result, they have been caught "falling off the kerb into the roads in front of families".

The area has been taken over by the drug-ravaged sex workers who continue to offer their services, despite the toleration policy no longer being in place.

One vice girl said: "I never usually work days. But I have had a really bad few nights and I need to buy Xmas presents for my kids."

"Despite the freezing weather, sex workers are wandering the streets in the hopes of picking up a few extra clients."

Locals claim prossies have launched a "24-hour operation" and are offering services for just £30.

Jackson Williams, 24, was blasting fowl at Sooner Lake in Oklahoma when he went to retrieve a duck and stumbled over a drop-off, causing his waders to fill up and weigh him down.

Authorities later retrieved the student's body from the lake floor.

RANGE ROVER IS CAR THIEF'S FAVE

RANGE Rovers are suffering big price drops as their owners struggle to get them insured after the model became Britain's most stolen car.

The average price of a used Range Rover has fallen 9% since May, to £35,224, compared to a decline of just 3% for all other cars, according to motor trade bible Auto Trader.

And the cost to insure one more than doubled to £3,270 in the year to

The average quote this year for a man aged 36-50, driving a newer Range Rover model, is £5,186. One driver received a cheapest quote of £48,000 for a car worth £45k which was valued at £103,000 two years ago.

About 86% of Gen Z adults aged 18-24 in the study admitted they have suffered from “menu anxiety” when dining in restaurants, compared to 67% of all respondents.

Some of these young adults (34%) reported feeling so anxious – either over the cost of the food or regretting what they might order – they end up asking others at the table to speak to waiters on their behalf.

W*NKING COP JIZZED IN BOTTLE OF WATER

A POLICE officer has been suspended after he took a video of himself SPUNKING into someone's water bottle.

David Richard Mills has been charged with 12 counts related to exposing his genitals and performing sexual acts in public.

Mills, 36, a deputy with the Yamhill County Sheriff's Office in Oregon, "masturbated into a water bottle of another person with the intent of that person unknowingly drinking it, and sharing the video online for financial benefit on January 5, 2022".

Mills is also accused of wanking in a public building and posting a video of it online the same day.

It's believed Mills posted his antics on an OnlyFans-style website.

Exposed

On April 2 this year, Mills posted a picture of himself online while he was wearing his uniform with his penis exposed.

Additionally, he placed his exposed penis on a countertop in the sheriff's office on August 6.

Mills's charges include official misconduct, public indecency, disorderly conduct and abuse of venerated objects.

Authorities said they are now investigating the case.

Ambulance thief stops at cop shop

A MAN took a wrong turn during a pursuit of a stolen ambulance and ended up on the front lawn of a police station.

Stanley Williams, 35, is accused of grand theft and fleeing and eluding after the incident that unfolded in Columbia County, Florida.

A cop was assisting paramedics with a person who was experiencing an "altered mental state" and possibly under the influence of drugs.

Cops said that Williams managed to gain access to the ambulance and took off with the vehicle.

During the pursuit, cops said Williams drove the stolen ambulance to the entrance of the Columbia County Sheriff's Office Operations Centre, driving it into the front lawn and stopped at the entrance.

LECCY CHARGERS BAN OVER DOGGING FEARS

AN electric charging station will not be built along the side of the A1 over fears it would become a hot spot for hookers and doggers.

Osprey Charging wanted to build 16 rapid charging points beside the motorway on land in Stamford, Lincs.

But the application sparked a storm of outrage from locals fearing the unstaffed station would be a magnet for sex people.

South Kesteven District Council threw out the plans with the decision notice sent to Osprey Charging citing the "loss of agricultural land as well as harm to the visual amenity of the area".

It also stated "the isolated nature of the site has potential to result in crime and a fear of crime".

The blueprints on the council's website attracted a total of 30 objections, while Councillor Richard Cleaver told a planning committee meeting it was the most objections he had received from residents during his time serving as a councillor.

Thief planned to give parcels as Xmas gifts

A WOMAN followed an Amazon delivery driver through her neighbourhood and stole delivered parcels that she planned to pass off as Xmas gifts.

Kensley Mott, 33 (above), was caught on CCTV creeping up to her victims' front doors to snatch packages, which she later admitted she planned to give as presents.

The brazen theft may not have been Mott's first time scanning Sun Ridge Village in Winter Haven, near Orlando, Florida, as a neighbour reported an attempted package theft just one week before.

Mott has a criminal history including arrests dating back to 2016 for theft and narcotics possession.

When police tracked her down at her nearby pizza parlour job, she immediately copped to the crime, the Polk County Sheriff's Office said in a statement.

"I stole them because I'm going to give them away as presents for Christmas," Mott said, according to Sheriff Grady Judd.

Baby survives tornado horror

A BABY miraculously survived after being sucked up by a TORNADO!

Sydney Moore, her boyfriend, and their kids were inside their home in Clarksville, Tennessee, when the tornado – which left six people dead and more than two dozen injured – touched down in Montgomery County.

She said the tornado, which destroyed the couple's mobile home and other belongings, picked up her four-month-old child, who managed to survive the horrific event.

"Something in me just told me to run and jump on top of my son," Sydney said of her efforts to protect her eldest child, a one-year-old.

"The moment I jumped on him, the walls of our home collapsed."

UNDERFIRE MISS IN X-RATED FITTING ROOM ROMP

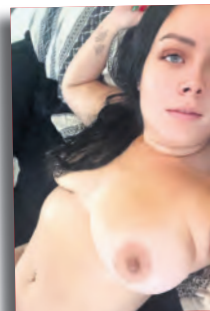

SEXY TEACHER GIVES CRITICS THE FINGER!

IN ACTION: Meg has posted a racy vid of her in changing room

By GINA CHARLES news@sundaysport.co.uk

A TEACHER who was suspended when bosses found out she was moonlighting as a saucy OnlyFans model has given the finger to prudes who slate her sideline...

By fingering her sodden MINGE in an X-rated video filmed in a clothes store changing room!

Secret

Megan Gaither, a teacher from St Clair, Missouri in the United States, was recently put on leave after a student posted a note on her door saying that they "knew her secret".

But far from being embarrassed about recent developments, Megan has gone for it big time.

She has now taken to Twitter to tease an OnlyFans video of her explicitly frigging her dripping SLOT.

Alongside a teaser for her latest video, Megan wrote: "Had fun in the fitting room today. Wanna see?"

But her follow-up Twitter vid left nothing to the imagination, and it was captioned: "Y'all wanted to see my fitting room exploits today? Here's a teaser..."

In the clip, topless Megan lies back, pulls her black panties to one side and rubs her meaty flaps with her slender fingers.

Megan is the second teacher from St Clair High School to be caught making racy content online.

Her former colleague, Brianna Coppage, also found herself in hot water for using her OnlyFans page to help supplement her school income.

Porn

Brianna is now big news in porn, making a vid with X-rated big hitter Lena the Plug.

When Megan was busted for her sideline, she claimed it was down to her colleagues leaking it to the press – and she said she quickly made the decision to own the story rather than try and on the defensive and hide.

"I very quickly made the decision. Do I let them post the wrong story about me, or do I tell my story?" she said.

TEACHER OF YEAR ADMITS SEX WITH TEEN PUPIL

A FORMER drama teacher has pleaded guilty to sexually assaulting a 14-year-old student two years ago.

In exchange for her guilty plea, Brittney Lopez-Murray, 33 (left), was sentenced to two years of community control plus 10 years of probation while also being required to register as a sex offender and attend a programme for mental disorder sex offenders.

Lopez-Murray pleaded guilty to charges including lewd and lascivious battery, lewd and lascivious molestation of a child and electronic transmission harmful to minors.

Lopez-Murray, who was named Rookie Teacher of the Year in 2017 at Hialeah Middle School, in Hialeah, near Miami, Florida, was still teaching there when she was arrested in October 2021.

According to a police report, the teenage victim had been Lopez-Murray's student in middle school, but at the time the relationship reportedly began in August 2021, he was in high school.

The report noted that the victim's sister was concerned about his behaviour and was able to get a look at his phone and found "explicit texts and photos" between the teacher and teen.

The boy's father also saw the phone, revealing explicit photos of Lopez-Murray and text messages detailing "how much they enjoyed the sex with each other".

The boy reportedly told police that Lopez-Murray sometimes picked him up from basketball practice and that they would engage in sex acts in her car in a mall or grocery store parking lot, according to the outlet.

Lopez-Murray's plea deal was accepted by the victim's family.

TOPLESS beauty Tracy Thompson has massive NORKS... and loves it when they're PLAYED with during sex.

The Preston-born stunna boasts sweater-stretching 34E knockers and says nothing gets her hornier than when they're being fondled.

Tracy also confessed she enjoys wearing thigh high boots when she's naked – and it drives blokes wild.

She said: "I've got big boobs, no doubt about that, and they're always the centre of attention when I'm out."

"They're my best asset and as soon as they're played with or kissed, it drives me crazy and I get so horny."

"I also dress in thigh high boots and nothing else when I'm in the bedroom and men end up gagging for it because it looks so sexy."

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Taylor's shiny... but is she sexy?

MAYBE I'm missing something, but what is it about Taylor Swift that just leaves me cold?

I keep reading about how she's one of the most beautiful women on the planet.

She's certainly one of the most successful.

Millions of albums sold. Concerts sold out across the planet. A bank manager with a smile as wide as the M1.

Put it this way – I bet Taylor doesn't struggle to get an account at Coutts. But I just don't see the physical attraction that everyone else seems to.

Ariana Grande in a skimpy leotard gyrating around a stage, yes.

Miley Cyrus swinging stark bollock naked (apart from her Dr Martens) from her wrecking ball, absolutely.

Rita "Kwaaaaooooor" Ora, of course. And not just today's hotties.

The I'm a Barbie Girl singer in Aqua back in the day, definitely.

Kylie, obvs. Whitney before she carked it.

Madonna, as in 1980s Madonna, certainly.

Kim Wilde, too.

All fit, because it seemed to come naturally.

But the sight of Taylor in her usual stage garb – tights, high-cut bodice to accentuate her legs – just doesn't do it for me, sorry.

It might help if I knew a single one of her songs.

But then I haven't heard a new Madonna single in years, Aqua are long gone and Kim Wilde is more interested in gardening.

I also wouldn't have a clue what any songs from the Arianas, Ritas and Mileys would sound like either.

This probably won't go down too well with the Swifties, but Taylor reminds me of a thoroughbred racehorse parading around the paddock before the Grand National.

Picture perfect. Shiny. Teeth on show.

● IT probably seems a bit early to be thinking about your summer holiday, doesn't it?

Not when there's still a turkey to be cooked, crackers to be pulled, family rows to spark up, fairy lights to go on fire, and knowing your wheelie bin collections are bugged until New Year.

But time – and more importantly money – waits for no man.

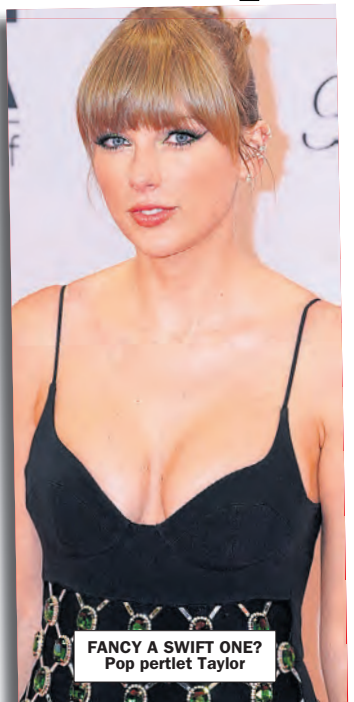

As well as expecting the usual telly adverts for holidays in the sun that you can book now and pay for later, and the annual complaining when Creme Eggs hit the shops on Boxing Day, the advertising festive fare now includes... Shooting live reindeer.

Yes, for a mere squillion pounds during a three-week hunting window you can actually pay to bring summer and winter together. Gun-toting nuts and sociopaths can simply jump on a plane, fly to Norway, and then spend joyful hours splattering the red blood of Rudolph and friends right across the virgin white snow.

"And what did you get for Chrimbo?" someone will ask when you get back to work. "A chance to ensure the entire world will hate me."

FANCY A SWIFT ONE?
Pop pertlet Taylor

Oh, hang on, perhaps I'm describing one of her cringiest "biggest" fans instead.

A certain Master Sunak, aged 4 and a half, from Downing Street, London. He really will say just about anything for a vote, won't he?

But at least that explains why Taylor is such a turn-off.

Biden man axed over anal sex vid

A US Senate staffer who filmed himself doing bumming in a Judiciary Committee hearing room has got the boot.

Maese-Czeropski, a 24-year-old legislative aide to Democratic Senator Ben Cardin, was accused of posting a video of himself doing bumming with another man on a public Twitter account. His face appeared to be clearly visible.

"Maese-Czeropski is no longer employed by the US Senate. We will have no further comment on this personnel matter," a spokeswoman for Cardin said.

It is not believed that Senator Cardin, 80, was involved in the bumming.

The roughly eight seconds of intercourse allegedly took place in the same room where nominees to the Supreme Court are grilled by senators.

The United States Capitol Police launched a probe into potential criminal violations after the video began circulating.

Maese-Czeropski previously featured in an ad for US President Biden (above).

Fact me!

IT'S technically illegal to eat mince pies on Christmas Day. In the 17th century, Oliver Cromwell banned Christmas pudding, mince pies and anything to do with gluttony. The law has never been rescinded.

OAP hubby kills wife over brekkie

AN elderly man stabbed his wife to death as he didn't want to eat the pancakes she'd made.

Steven Schwartz, 85, plunged a carving knife into 81-year-old Sharron Hilda Schwartz's back at their home after she tried pushing the breakfast item on him to help him gain weight. He then stabbed himself.

"I killed her, oh my Lord. I don't remember, it was a crazy fight!" Schwartz told arresting officers in Washington DC.

He told detectives he had lost up to 50lbs during a recent hospital stay, due to physical and psychiatric disorders, and that Sharron was trying to get his weight back up.

Sharron, who was pronounced dead later at hospital, pushed the pancakes on him after learning he wasn't planning to eat breakfast because he'd eaten a quarter of a Krispy Kreme doughnut the day before.

Porn star Adriana Chechik talks about her recovery from horror accident...

A WALKING MIRACLE!

By HARPER HAYES news@sundaysport.co.uk

GORGEOUS porn star Adriana Chechik has spoken of her miracle recovery from a horror accident.

Adriana, 32, was told she may never walk again after suffering an injury to her back jumping into a pit of foam cubes at TwitchCon in 2022.

But the brave anal-and-squirting queen has been on the road to recovery ever since.

Adriana is still suffering pain from her injury over a year later.

She is hopeful of a full recovery and is back on her feet, despite doctors previously telling her she may never walk again.

She has now revealed the initially horrifying diagnosis she received in hospital.

Walk

The neurosurgeon told her after the incident she would have little chance of ever standing on her own two feet.

She said: "When I was in the hospital the neurosurgeon came over to me before he actually got into my back, because I couldn't feel my legs before the surgery, and said 'we don't know if you'll walk again'."

"It was just the worst thing to hear in your life. I have a whole new appreciation for anybody who has mobility issues because it was terrifying. Luckily I am able to walk, I got very lucky that I hurt myself without damaging any nerves."

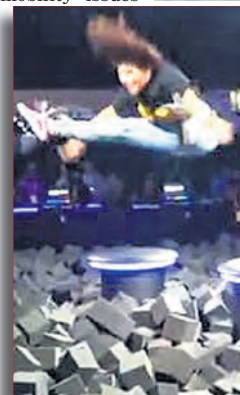

Adriana explained her nerves "squished" upon impact during the incident, where several people were injured in a pit that was not properly padded.

Instead of a cushy landing, people in the foam pit ended up landing on concrete at the bottom.

It emerged Adriana had been pregnant at the time of the back break, though she was unaware. She tragically lost the baby.

BACK IN ACTION: But sexy Adriana is still in pain

HORROR: Adriana's injury

Dear Ava,

I'VE been married for 15 years and I'm just beginning to wonder if my missus is a two-timing nympho.

A couple of weeks ago I was in a pub with some workmates when a guy came up and started talking to one of them.

It seems they were old mates and hadn't seen each other for a few years.

When my pal asked his mate if he was married he replied: "No, but I'm fking a proper nympho regularly" – then produced a photo of the woman.

It was a pretty poor snap but I could see enough to suspect the woman laid on a bed with her legs spread wide showing her minge was my wife!

I'm absolutely devastated.

What should I do?

FR, Notts

Ava says...

STOP being so ridiculous – most women look the same when they've got their kit off. Sounds like you're just being paranoid.

Dear Ava,

ME and my girlfriend got engaged a couple of months ago – I'm 21 and she's 19.

She's the same age as me and is very insecure.

A couple of weeks ago her female pal came to my flat during the day, when my bird was out at work and I was on a day off.

One thing led to another, and we were soon rolling around in the sack together.

She soon had my dick hard and went down on me – and she swallowed the lot!

Then I went down on her, licking her vag and tickling her little clit.

After she'd gone, I realised what I had done and felt bad. But the next week the same thing happened.

Since then I've told her that it must stop but she says that if I don't carry on "servicing" her she'll tell my fiancée.

MA, Derbys

Ava says...

YOU should stop kidding yourself that it's all HER fault. Call her bluff – but remember, it takes two to tango.

Dear Ava,

I'M a 36-year-old divorced lady and the other week I bumped into an old female school pal I'd not seen for 20 years.

I invited her round to my place for a meal, where we cracked open a bottle of wine and had a great time recalling all the silly things we'd done in the past.

She is also divorced and revealed she hadn't made love to a man since her husband left her.

I said she must be feeling terribly frustrated but she laughed and said: "That does not mean I haven't had sex."

Then she pushed me back on the sofa, easing my thighs apart, and I screamed in ecstasy as she pulled my panties aside and probed my pussy with her fingers and then the tip of her firm tongue.

It seemed like only seconds before I was experiencing the most powerful orgasm I have ever felt.

Now I'm feeling sexually confused. Am I gay?

VL, Lancs

Ava says...

YOU'LL have to explore further with your friend.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week AVA DALUSH has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Well-hung manager is the boss of spanking!

Dear Ava,

I'VE often fantasised about being spanked, but I daren't tell my husband – in case he thinks I'm a pervert.

But recently I decided to make my dream come true – with my boss!

For some time now he has been making comments about my arse and how much he would like to spank it.

I used to laugh it off as a joke, but I started thinking more and more about it and a couple of weeks ago I decided to call his bluff.

He invited me out to a bar in town after work and we had a few drinks and started talking about fantasies. I told him mine, and he was at pains to point out that his was pretty similar – apart from him wanting to take me in both holes after he had spanked me.

I got turned on by him describing what he wanted to do to me, so I said we should go back to the office.

Knickers

We made sure we were all alone in the building and he pretended to be angry with me as I bent over his desk.

Then he lifted my skirt up, took my knickers down and told me I deserved a good spanking.

I don't mind admitting that I was trembling with excitement as he gave me a dozen slaps that left me horny, and my bum cheeks burning hot.

So I turned round to see that my boss had an enormous bulge in his trousers and I made a grab for him, quickly unleashing his impressive eight-incher.

I took him to the brink of orgasm with my mouth before I turned around and let him screw me hard and fast from behind over the desk.

He first took me doggy-style and then switched holes and had anal sex with me.

It was one of the best shags I've ever known and I'm sure the spanking is what made all the difference.

But now I'm feeling really guilty about cheating on my husband.

Should I tell him?

TH, West Yorks

Ava says...

NO – but you should definitely ask him to spank your arse!

Dear Ava,

I'M a horny 26-year-old girl and I love pulling fellas for one-night stands.

I get a thrill out of unleashing a new cock each time and comparing it for size – and taste – with all the other dicks I've had.

I go to all the local clubs and pubs and I've had most of the fanciable males in the area now.

So I'm looking at new ways to meet lads for no-strings sex.

My big ambition is to take a virgin bloke to bed, too.

Where can I find one?

CB, Leics

Ava says...

THE only place I could suggest would be the nearest monastery – although I doubt they'd let you in the place!

Dear Ava,

I'M in my mid-50s and have recently started dating a lovely 18-year-old girl.

She's assured me that age is just a number and on our first date I enjoyed some heavy snogging and petting with her.

We had full sex on our third date, after a party.

We'd had a bit to drink and were touching each other in the bathroom.

To my astonishment she dropped to her knees, grabbed hold of my stiff cock and put it between her sweet lips.

While she was slurping on my engorged member I noticed she'd yanked down her knickers and was fingering herself.

This set me off and I blew the lot in her gob.

Later I asked her if she fancied a cock up there, rather than her fingers, and she took me out to her mate's garage.

She unlocked the car parked there and we climbed on the back seat.

Then she wriggled out of her skirt and was soon straddling my love-muscle and riding it wildly.

Now she says she wants to go away to university after the summer, where I know that with her huge sexual appetite she'll soon be getting her fill of young, hard cock in no time.

Can we carry on?

CH, north London

Ava says...

GET it while you can.

Steamy scrum with randy rugger girls

Dear Ava,

MY fella used to be a keen rugby player and I'd go along and help the other WAGS to serve the drinks and food after a match.

When he stopped playing due to injury, we kept going along to help.

Then a few of the other WAGS decided to set up a team for the ladies – and I joined in.

After our first match, my fella came up with the suggestion of me getting off with two lesbians on the team.

We won our first game and I was so elated I said yes to his plan.

In the showers, the two gay girls started giving each other a celebratory kiss, so I jumped in the middle and we began locking our lips together.

We were soon fingering each other's fannies and soaping each other's boobs and I was dripping wet – not just from the shower!

As we were drying off, the girls used their tongues to make me orgasm.

Then we went to the club bar and promised ourselves another session soon.

My fella loved it, but now wants to join in but I just want the ladies – not him.

Is this normal?

GH, Hants

Ava says...

AS long as you're having a good time, and you let your boyfriend down gently, who cares about labels?

Just go with the flow and enjoy it.

KINKY Charley Atwell has admitted that she prefers SEX TOYS to the real thing!
 The babe told us bonking doesn't ever come close to the sheer pleasure she gets from satisfying herself with X-rated adult devices.
 Because she never fails to reach the Big O with a plastic throbber up her!
 Charley, who boasts a pair of whopping 34Es, also said she can't go a day without treating herself to some steamy self-loving.
 The babe, from Romford, Essex, said: "Unlike normal sex, I always climax when I use a vibrator."
 "As soon as I get through the front door I'm upstairs, my knickers are off and the dildo comes out."
 "I can spend hours just playing with my toys!"

CURVY Katie Ryder says she's always being asked if she's related to Happy Mondays idol SHAUN RYDER! She said: "Just because I'm from the north, like Shaun, they think we must be related. Well, we're not – not that I know, leastways."

"Maybe very distantly. Perhaps they could get us on Who Do You Think You Are? to find out!"

Katie also says she often goes out COMMANDO to parties and she loves a bit of BUM FUN!

The stunna from Preston said: "I don't mind a bit of back-door action. I like to keep it for special occasions – like birthdays and Christmas."

The 30G cracker added: "If you use lots of lube you're good to go!"

BIG DEAL: Cummins

Cummins nets £2m in new IPL record deal

CRICKET

AUSTRALIA captain Pat Cummins has landed a record £1.94million contract at the Indian Premier League auction with England pair Harry Brook and Chris Woakes picking up deals worth just under £400,000.

Cummins sat out the 2023 tournament to focus on international cricket but became even hotter property after leading his side to the World Test Championship and last month's 50-over World Cup on Indian soil.

Four teams vied for the fast bowler's signature and Sunrisers Hyderabad ended up paying 20.5 crore rupees, eclipsing the previous high of 18.5 crore (£1.77m) Punjab Kings paid for English all-rounder Sam Curran last year.

Cummins, 30, had entered with a base price of just under £200,000 and saw the bidding war up his fee by a factor of 10.

Sunrisers had plenty of budget to play with having released Brook after one season of a £1.3m deal, with the Yorkshireman picking up a reduced payday with the Capitals.

He hit one superb century in his first IPL campaign but was otherwise badly short of runs with just 190 in 11 matches.

Woakes was later drafted for just under £400,000 by Punjab, joining his England team-mates Curran and Liam Livingstone.

Sunrisers also splurged on Cummins' fellow Australian Travis Head, who capped a stellar year with a match-winning 137 in the World Cup final in Ahmedabad.

He cost around £645,000 as he returned to the tournament for the first time since 2017.

West Indies T20 captain Rovman Powell was the first player to go under the hammer at the event in Dubai and fetched a surprisingly lavish £700,000 bid from Rajasthan Royals, while New Zealand all-rounder Daryl Mitchell scooped the biggest cheque of his career when he went to Chennai Super Kings for £1.3million.

STAR CAN

GERWIN

THE TITLE

Welsh wizard has huge chance if Ally Pally crowd stay off his back

FORMER winner Gerwyn Price is convinced he can finally win over the Alexandra Palace crowd after breezing into the third round of the PDC World Darts Championship.

The Welshman has had an often troubled relationship with the fans and last year wore ear protectors during his 5-1 quarter-final defeat to Germany's Gabriel Clemens.

Price's solitary crown came in 2021 when the crowd was shut out due to COVID, but he is hopeful of more support after outclassing Connor Scutt with a 3-1 win.

"It's really difficult to come here when the crowd's on your back," Price said.

"I'm glad the crowd were really good to me today and if they continue like this there's no reason I can't win it.

By PAUL THOMAS

"It was difficult, my game was steady, it wasn't my 'A' game and there were some first-round jitters, but I'm through so I'm happy."

The performance of the night came from Hong Kong's Man Lok Leung who hit 11 maximums as he battled back from 2-0 down to see off Dutchman Gian van Veen 3-2.

Leung looked down and out after missing 10 darts at double for the second set, but stormed back with a thrilling performance to book his place in round two for the first time.

Martin Lukeman had too much for New Zealand's Haupehi Puha as he eased to a 3-0 win, while Tibault Tricole was a 3-1 winner over Mario Vandenbogaerde.

Gary Anderson began his quest for a third World Championship title in style with a handsome victory over Simon Whitlock.

The Scot, who won back-to-back crowns at Alexandra Palace in 2015 and 2016, has been looking back to his best this year after a lull and eased through to the third round with a 3-0 success over the Australian.

He set the tone with a 180 with his opening throw of the match and won the first five legs to take command.

Struggled

Anderson, who averaged 98.29, saw it out in style, taking out 116 for the highest checkout of the match.

"The first set I played better, but I have known Simon a long, long time, he struggled up there," the Scot said.

"But happy with the win.

"I am trying to get back, I didn't want to play darts in the last three years. I am enjoying it again, win or lose, I am enjoying it."

Jamie Hughes was fighting back tears after finally breaking his Ally Pally duck.

The world number 62 had lost his previous four matches on the big stage but put that right by beating David Cameron 3-1.

He said: "I am probably playing the worst I have ever played in my life and I have just won a game. I have played better and lost. I am so, so happy to finally get a win on that stage."

"Hopefully that has got the duck off my back and I can play my natural game."

Dave Chisnall sent Cameron Menzies back to the day job after knocking him in the afternoon session.

Menzies had booked his place in the second round on Friday night after working a half-day as a plumber, having to fix a burst pipe and repair a kitchen sink. He was back in action on Saturday afternoon, having at least had the morning off, but could not repeat the trick and 11th seed Chisnall came from a set down to win 3-1.

Shock

Menzies, who is hoping to make the transition to become a full-time darts player, will be back at the Palace on Sunday to support his girlfriend Fallon Sherrock, but his run at this year's tournament is over.

Lee Evans reckons it would not be a major shock if he beats Luke Humphries in the second round.

The 35-year-old marked his Ally Pally debut with a 3-0 win over Sandro Eric Sosing to set up a date with his former playing partner Humphries, who is the favourite to win the tournament.

"What a draw. Good job I know him very well," he said.

"I know his game very well, he knows me. We played pairs a few years ago, played in the same teams, I will need to play my best game without a doubt," Evans said.

"It is a free shot. If he goes to that A place, I think I have got the A place to match, but he is a level above everyone at the moment.

"I reckon I can push him close if I can play my best. If I beat Luke Humphries I think there will be bigger shocks.

"For me I don't think it would be a shock. Everyone else might, but I wouldn't."

DEFENDING CHAMPION:
Bravemansgame

Nicholls full of Xmas cheer for King George

By DON FRANCOME

PAUL Nicholls is confident Bravemansgame will put up a staunch defence of his crown in the Ladbrokes King George VI Chase at Kempton Park next week.

The eight-year-old was a brilliant 14-length winner of the Boxing Day showpiece last season, but has had to make do with minor honours on each of his four subsequent starts.

Bravemansgame was best of the rest behind Galopin Des Champs in the Cheltenham Gold Cup in March and rounded off his season with a third-placed finish at Punchestown.

He has been beaten at odds-on in his first two outings of this season, in the Charlie Hall at Wetherby and the Belfair Chase at Haydock, but Nicholls feels that while his Gold Cup effort may have taken its toll, his star chaser is showing signs at home he is returning to his peak ahead of what the Ditcheat handler considers as a "home game".

"Bravemansgame won the race last year and then the season before he won the Kauto Star around Kempton," he said.

"He loves it there and it is the ultimate track for him. It is almost a home game for him."

"Whether the Gold Cup left a mark on him, I don't know, and it could be that it has just taken a while to get him back. He worked as well as he could work on Saturday, and he looks good. We are looking forward to the King George."

Last season saw Bravemansgame head straight to the King George following victory in the Charlie Hall, and Nicholls was initially planning on taking the same route this term.

However, having suffered defeat in West Yorkshire, the champion trainer decided to take in the Belfair Chase – and while he was beaten again, he insists he has no regrets.

He added: "The thing is, it is easy to wrap all these horses in cotton wool, but he is a year older and it was a very valuable race at Haydock."

"We knew he would need the run at Wetherby and with Belfair putting all the money into it at Haydock you want to make it as competitive as you can, and it was an interesting race."

"He ran a good race, and he was bang there for three miles. Then Daryl (Jacob) just looked after him. He had only run three weeks before it and between the two races I had been a bit easy on him. It suits him being fresh and doing a lot of work."

"Bryan (Drew, owner) was very keen to go for the race. He owns him outright and you respect his wishes. Ultimately his target, and my target, since he came in has been Boxing Day and he is ready for it."

Bravemansgame will be joined in the King George field by his veteran stablemate Frodon, who claimed a popular victory in the race three years ago under Bryony Frost and was last seen finishing third when seeking a second win in the Badger Beer Handicap Chase at Wincanton.

"Frodon loves it around Kempton and he is in really good form. He is not getting any younger, but

GALIA DES LITEAUX

GET LIT UP BY SKELTON STAR

GALIA Des Liteaux sets a strong standard in the Listed-class Make Your Best Bet At BetVictor Mares' Chase at Newbury.

Dan Skelton's charge showed plenty of promise as a novice last season, notably romping home by 13 lengths in a Grade Two contest at Warwick ahead of Complete Unknown, who was favourite for the Coral Gold Cup at this venue recently.

Taking on the top boys at Cheltenham and Aintree proved a step too far but Galia Des Liteaux made a pleasing reappearance against her own sex last month.

Impressive

Harry Skelton had to keep pushing away to fend off Found On but a strong jump at the last helped her to prevail by four and a half lengths.

The seven-year-old can be expected to come on for that first run, as many of her stablemates have done this term, and this stiffer track should play to her strengths, so it will take a big effort to lower her colours.

Jamie Snowden has been enjoying a fine campaign so far and Torneo is taken to add another win to his impressive tally in the BetVictor Loyalty Club Juvenile Hurdle.

By MIKE FRANCIS

Toronado looked well bought at €110,000 to go jumping and can build on a solid second at Catterick on his National Hunt debut, having since been gelded.

Brave Kingdom made a most encouraging comeback from 690 days on the sidelines when making all to beat the hat-trick seeking General Medrano at Plumpton.

After reportedly working well at home, the three-time hurdles winner jumped superbly throughout and a 5lb rise up the ratings may not stop him following up in the JM Finn Novices' Limited Handicap Chase.

The BetVictor EBF Stallions "National Hunt" Novices' Hurdle looks a hot contest and Gidleigh Park gets the nod to further enhance his lofty reputation.

Harry Fry's charge created a good impression when staying on strongly to score by six lengths in a Chepstow bumper from The Jukebox Man, who has since franked the form with three straight victories.

Gidleigh Park again powered up the homestretch when striking by seven and a half lengths on his debut over timber at Exeter and the runner-up Range won nicely next time, so he is a rock-solid option and stepping up in trip will suit.

Gary Moore's five-year-old was a nice second on his first outing over fences at Huntingdon and previously did well in handicap hurdles, chasing home JPR One at Taunton before scoring under 12st at Fontwell.

At Ludlow, Go To War can make it third time lucky over jumps in the Tanners Cava EBF "National Hunt" Novices' Hurdle.

Fergal O'Brien's charge won a Uttoxeter bumper last term before being far from disgraced in Grade Two company at Aintree, but he parted company with Paddy Brennan when put over obstacles at Exeter in October. His third-placed effort in a well-contested Taunton contest was much more like it, though, and the son of Soldier Of Fortune now looks ready to come home in front.

Gavin Cromwell has enjoyed great success with his Irish raiders at Cheltenham this term and now turns his attention to Ayr, where Midnight It Is has a nice weight in the Win Your Wedding At Western House Novices' Handicap Chase.

STICK: It's not just at grass roots level where referees face the wrath of players

72 ASSAULT ALLEGATIONS ON REFS PART OF 1,451 SERIOUS OFFENCES

ALLEGATIONS of serious offences against match officials in grassroots football increased last season compared to 2021-22, new Football Association data shows.

In total there were 1,451 allegations of serious offences against a match official last season, an increase of one per cent on the prior campaign where 1,430 offences were recorded.

Seventy-two allegations of an actual or attempted assault were made in 2022-23, according to data contained in the FA's Annual Grassroots Disciplinary Review which is being published later on Tuesday.

Of those, 53 led to charges being brought and 42 were proven, with 11 not proven on the balance of probabilities due to insufficient evidence.

To assist in improving conviction rates even further, the FA has now extended a trial using body cameras in grassroots football to eight county associations to act as a deterrent against abuse towards match officials. The FA said earlier this month that referees have faced no instances of abuse in around 500 matches since the trial began in February.

In addition to the 72 assaults or attempted assaults, there were 391 allegations of physical contact and 988 allegations relating to threatening a match official.

Participant behaviour towards referees is in the spotlight following an attack on a referee in Turkey last week. Halil Umut Meler was punched by the president of MKE Ankaragucu, Faruk Koca, at the end of a match on December 11.

Koca was arrested over the incident and has since been issued with a permanent ban by the Turkish Football Federation (TFF).

Manchester City were fined £120,000 by an independent regulatory commission on Monday after their players surrounded referee Simon Hooper during their Premier League match against Tottenham on December 3.

The review marks the first time the FA has collated data on disciplinary matters from the grassroots game.

Overall, there were 3,636 allegations of serious misconduct – a nine per cent increase on the previous season – with 82 per cent of charges being proven.

There was also a 10 per cent increase in the number of allegations of discrimination, with the average sanction for proven charges being a seven-match suspension.

Alongside the body camera trials, the FA has also introduced points deductions and ground closures for teams involved in serious or repeat instances of misconduct.

The FA has also launched its 'Enough Is Enough' campaign to raise awareness of discriminatory behaviour in the grassroots game and how to report it when it occurs.

The game's national governing body has also launched a joint action plan alongside Kick It Out, the anti-discrimination charity, to proactively tackle incidents of discrimination and serious misconduct in grassroots football.

"Providing this level of transparency is important to us so that everyone can have a better understanding of the levels of serious misconduct across the game," the FA's senior discipline manager Fraser Williamson said.

Safe

"It also makes clear that we take all allegations of this nature very seriously and that we will take action against offenders."

"We know that incidents of serious misconduct are on the rise across the grassroots game, however we're clear that this will not be tolerated and that perpetrators will face consequences."

"We've recently implemented a number of interventions across our game to help improve the culture and behaviour of participants, both on the pitch and on the sidelines, and we will continue to do all we can to ensure our game is safe and welcoming for all."

CITY ARE AT THE WORLD CLUB

PEP: MY LADS ARE GOOSED

Guardiola calls for players to get longer breaks between seasons

PEP Guardiola has called for change as the fixture burden on players continues to increase.

The Manchester City manager was speaking in light of FIFA's decision to expand the Club World Cup to a 32-team tournament from 2025.

Guardiola insists he is not against the new event in principle – and City are already guaranteed a place – but he feels something has to give somewhere to ease the workload on players.

The Spaniard told reporters at a press conference: "I am not against the new competitions.

"I am against the lack of time to recover from year to year. This is what I am complaining (about) all the time.

"For me it doesn't matter to play every three days, six days, seven days. It is OK.

"But it is really tough to finish the season and then in three weeks restart again and go to Asia, to be financially stable, or the States.

"That is really, really tough, for ourselves and especially for the players. For myself, things should change. This is my point.

Problem

"But how do you change when (after) you finish the season, you go to the States to play another competition?

"This is the problem."

Guardiola was speaking in Saudi Arabia, where Champions League winners City are preparing for this year's edition of the Club World Cup. They faced Japanese side Urawa

Red Diamonds, the Asian champions, in their semi-final in Jeddah last night.

"It's a pleasure to be here, it's an honour," said Guardiola.

"It's the first time Man City are here. That shows how difficult it is. We won't take it for granted. We take it as a privilege.

"Of course we want to win it. It is a trophy we don't have. We want to close a little circle, that we have won all the trophies we could do. This is the last one."

Midfielder Bernardo Silva admitted the schedule facing players at the top level was difficult but was not complaining.

The Portuguese said: "We were not consulted but we try to do our jobs, to represent our clubs the best possible way, and the people that pay our salaries and the fans that support us.

"The reality is the amount of games we have nowadays, and even more with the new competitions, if you look at it, it is a bit crazy because of the rest that players get and the risk of injury is up quite a lot.

"At the end we cannot complain because we earn a lot of money but in my opinion, for the people that love the game, and are entertained by the game, if we have this many games for so long, at the end the games will lose the energy and the intensity."

Surrounded

City again seem likely to be without striker Erling Haaland, who has missed the last three games with a foot injury. Kevin De Bruyne and Jeremy Doku are also with the squad as they near returns to action but they are not expected to play.

Meanwhile, Manchester City have been fined £120,000 after their players surrounded referee Simon

Hooper in the 94th minute of their 3-3 draw with Tottenham earlier this month.

Hooper made the contentious call to bring play back after he initially played advantage following Emerson Royal's mistimed challenge on Erling Haaland.

Haaland was able to get back to his feet and produce a through ball which sent Jack Grealish away, but Hooper blew his whistle to end their hopes of scoring a potential winner during that play against the Londoners.

It sparked an animated reaction from Man City's players with Norwegian Haaland in particular incensed along with manager Pep Guardiola on the touchline.

Haaland expressed his frustration again at full-time and later made clear his bemusement with a post on social-media site X.

The Football Association has now fined City after they admitted their players behaved in an improper way.

Behave

"Manchester City FC have been fined £120,000 after their players surrounded a match official at the Premier League game against Tottenham on Sunday 3 December, an FA statement read.

"Manchester City FC admitted that they failed to ensure their players did not behave in an improper way during the 94th minute.

"An independent Regulatory Commission imposed this sanction following a hearing."

Poch vows to keep faith in his youngsters

MAURICIO Pochettino pledged to keep open a path to the Chelsea first team for academy graduates who prove themselves good enough.

The manager has given debuts this season to six players aged 20 and under, including defender Levi Colwill who has become an England international after featuring in all but one of Pochettino's games in charge at Stamford Bridge.

Alex Matos, the 19-year-old forward signed from Norwich in the summer, was an unused substitute during Saturday's 2-0 win against Sheffield United having made his Premier League debut in October against Fulham.

There have also been Chelsea bows for academy graduate Bashir Humphreys, 20, the 18-year-old Brazilian striker Deivid Washington, 19-year-old defender Diego Moreira and Mason Burrows, the 20-year-old forward signed from Charlton in 2022.

With a long injury list that continues to limit Pochettino's options, the depth of the first-team squad has been tested despite a colossal £1billion outlay on recruitment during the last 18 months.

The manager singled out Matos in particular for praise, and emphasised the need to keep young players at the club believing that their path to the senior team will not be blocked by established signings.

"His (Matos) personality, his character is always so focused," said Pochettino. "Of course he's talented with potential. He's really impressed me with his focus in everything. He's so smart, watching always everything, always smiling.

"To compete with the first-team players is tough. But he's really competitive, he's really strong. He'll kick you and smile at you.

"It's nice to have this type of profile. I'm happy with him. There's some massive talent in the academy in all the different teams.

"After four, five months we've had possibility to assess them all, and I think we have many young, talented players that, with time and given the possibility, can reach the level of Chelsea."

Pochettino is adamant that youth development remains a pillar of his philosophy as he continues his rebuild of the west London side.

"The challenge is also to improve the young players that have arrived, like Romeo Lavia or Deivid Washington," he said.

"But also the players coming through the academy, we care a lot about that. We love the work that they are doing there in the academy.

"The talent is there, now we need to create the capacity. They need to believe that they can reach the first team. It's not only about signing young players.

"It's about academy players having the opportunity if they deserve to be involved."

LAWRO LINK TO RANGERS

LAWRENCE Shankland has refused to deny speculation linking him with a January move to Rangers.

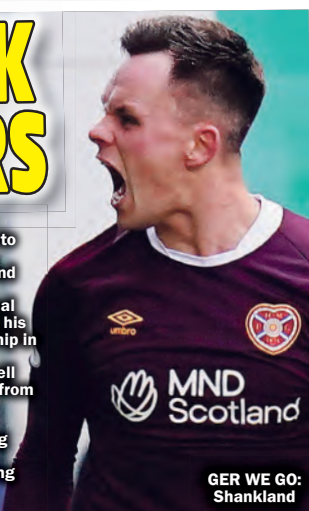

The Hearts skipper has been in fine form and hit the target against Celtic last time.

It looks as though the Scotland international will be leaving Tynecastle and Ibrox could be his next destination. Clubs from the Championship in England are also thought to be interested.

Shankland said: "It's a sign you're doing well when there's speculation, that's what I take from that."

"It's always been the case throughout my career, there's always been speculation flying about."

"It's a sign I'm doing my job well and scoring goals. That's all I focus on, doing my job for Hearts and doing it well."

Forest like the look of Nuno as struggling Cooper gets the chop

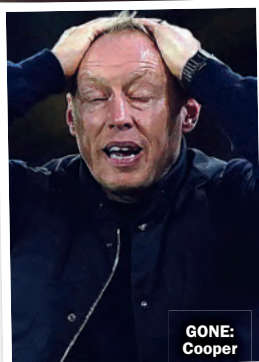

By JOHN ANTHONY

NOTTINGHAM Forest have sacked boss Steve Cooper and are in talks to appoint former Wolves and Tottenham boss Nuno Espirito Santo as his replacement.

The 44-year-old has paid the price for a run of just one win in 13 Premier League games, which has seen Forest plummet to just five points above the drop zone.

The Portuguese is the preferred candidate to take over at the City Ground and has met with club officials ahead of a possible appointment.

years after his sacking from an ill-fated four-month stay at Spurs.

Cooper has had the support of the Forest fans after taking them from the bottom of the Championship to Premier League survival last season.

It was fan power that saved him from the sack last term, but with another summer of heavy investment from owner Evangelos Marinakis, the Greek billionaire businessman has lost patience.

A difficult first year in the Premier League followed, where Cooper's job was under continual threat before a late-season rally saw them finish a highly respectable 16th.

Expectations of a push towards the top 10 came after a heavy spending spree in the summer, but results have been disappointing and Cooper has paid the price.
